Dear Sir/Madam,

Please find enclosed two documents being hard copies of 1) a site (www.alt-penis.com) infringing the copyright of our site and 2) whois information for this infringing website.

I am the proprietor of the site www.altpenis.com making this complaint against the site www.alt-penis.com.

The copyrighted work at issue is the whole of our site (www.altpenis.com). The infringing site (www.alt-penis.com) appears to have taken our entire site and replicated it in its entirety with the addition of their own banner ad on each page (the banner ad clicks through to <http://www.penisenlargementfacts.com/drwhitehead/> who appears to be the sole beneficiary of this blatant rip-off).

The infringing site can be found using the search term "site:www.alt-penis.com".

I have a good faith belief that use of the copyrighted materials described above on the allegedly infringing web pages is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law.

I swear, under penalty of perjury, that the information in this notification is accurate and that I am the copyright owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed.

Regards,

Excerpts From Our Most Requested News Articles*Natural Penis Enlargement & The Jelq

Penis enlargement can supposedly be traced back to ancient times, when Arabic fathers would prepare their sons for marriage by using a technique called jelqing which increased the size of the penis. Some claim that jelqing exercises resulted in penis size increases of up to 18"! Penis size increases of this nature are dubious and whether this is where jelqing got its name is debatable but the term jelqing has come to be used for a range of natural penis enlargement exercises. Europeans are credited with the popularization of natural penis enlargement, with variations on the jelq technique...

Diet & Exercise Can Inhibit Prostate Cancer

A high-fat diet and sedentary lifestyle may predispose men to prostate cancer through effects on serum factors such as hormones. The Pritikin low-fat, high-fiber diet and exercise program, on the other hand, may reduce the risk of clinical prostate cancer, says R. James Barnard, Ph.D. Dr. Barnard, of the Department of Physiological Science and the UCLA Division of Clinical Nutrition, Department of Medicine, will present evidence that links a low-fat diet and exercise to reduced prostate cancer cell growth at the 2000 American Physiological Intersociety Meeting...

In the pheromone study, one subject reported she engaged in kissing and petting about one day a week before taking part in the experiment. However, after wearing the pheromone, the number increased to nearly six times a week. The woman also reported she slept next to a romantic partner and engaged in sexual intercourse four nights a week while wearing the pheromone compared to less than one night a week when she did not wear the pheromone...

Penis Enlargement Research Results Released

Darren Beale, proprietor of Penis Health, says he was fed up with what he called "all the nonsense that passes for fact on penis enlargement websites." Last year, Beale set out to change that by commissioning a detailed study amongst fifty randomly selected members of a natural penis enlargement (jelqing) program. Beale says that his penis enlargement program is the first to sponsor research into the effectiveness of its jelqing techniques. Subscribers were asked to complete two surveys - one prior to commencing the penis enlargement program - and one on completion of the penis enlargement program. Results from the survey make interesting reading as to what results men can really see from a penis enlargement program. Key findings include...

Babies With Micro Penis Disorder Happier When Raised Male

Genetically and physically male babies born with a condition called "micropenis" are more likely to achieve psychological and sexual well-being in adulthood if raised male, according to a new study by researchers at Johns Hopkins and three other centers. Their report in this month's Hormone Research is the first comprehensive, long-term study examining psychological and sexual outcomes for both men and women. People born with a micropenis and raised as girls said they identified solidly with their female gender, but only 20 percent of the women said they were satisfied with their genitalia. In contrast, 50 percent of men, some of whom had attained normal penis length with the help of testosterone replacement, said they were satisfied with their genitalia...

Why Do You Want To Enlarge Your Penis?

Many penis enlargement sites pronounce the average penis size as "small". You should not embark on a penis enlargement program simply because a website tells you that your penis is too small. Any penis that is more or less average size does not need to be enlarged to provide pleasure in either a straight or gay relationship. If your penis is of an average size then there is absolutely no reason to undertake a penis enlargement program...

Penis Enlargement Pills For A Bigger Penis?

Pills and capsules that claim to enlarge the penis are a hot topic at the moment. Going under names like Longitude, Vig RX, Enzyte and Extend, the manufacturers of these herbal penis enlargement preparations claim they can increase the size of the penis by up to 50%. The ingredients of these penis enlargement preparations vary, usually including a number of herbs and vitamins. The active ingredient in most of these preparations is Yohimbine. Yohimbine has been the subject of several studies with laboratory animals. In rats, Yohimbine was found to boost the sex drive, hence its reputation as being an aphrodisiac as well...

Genital Size Obsession Affecting More Men

Although women are usually more dissatisfied with their body appearance than men, a new study has found that men are as likely as women to seek help for the image obsession known as body dysmorphic disorder. Differences between the genders centered mainly on the body part that was of concern to the patient. While men were often concerned with body build, hair loss and the size of genitals, women focused on weight and hips and the condition of their skin. These differences led to variations in the way the patients handled their perceived flaws...

Viagra Builds New Brain Cells

Viagra, used for erectile dysfunction and one of the most frequently prescribed medications in the United States, has been found to reduce the effects of stroke in laboratory animals. "What we found is that we can use drugs like Viagra to create new brain cells," said M Chopp, Ph.D.. "And these cells are created in both elderly as well as young subjects. When animals with stroke are treated with Viagra, the drug provides very significant neurological functional benefit. These animals do much better on many different outcome measures, including motor function, somatosensory testing, neurological outcome and weight gain. There are far fewer functional deficits. We can treat with Viagra days after stroke and there is a significant induction of new brain cells," said Chopp...

Penis Research Offers Erection Hope

Researchers a decade ago discovered that release of nitric oxide from nerve endings in the penis caused erection, but the temporary release of nitric oxide - a neurotransmitter that survives just a few seconds before breaking down - couldn't explain how erections are naturally sustained over time. "Once blood starts flowing into the penis, the source of nitric oxide in the blood vessels is continuously activated so that more nitric oxide is released, more tissue relaxes, more blood comes in and a sustained erection is achieved," researcher Burnett says. This series of events, Burnett says, begins when erotic thoughts or physical sensations produce nitric oxide release in nerve endings in the penis. Nitric oxide is a relaxant that allows blood vessels to open up or dilate, bringing increased blood flow and swelling of tissues...

Americans Sex Mad

A sex survey shows Americans to have huge sexual appetites - having sex more often and with more partners than any other nationality. The survey says that the majority of Americans lost their virginity at 16 years of age whilst the global average was 18. The people that keep their virginity the longest are the Chinese, where the average age for the first sexual experience was 22...

Boys Reaching Puberty Earlier

Researchers found that between their ninth and tenth birthdays, 4.3% of caucasian boys, 21% of black boys and 3.3% of Mexican/American boys showed pubic hair development. Like genital growth, pubic hair development results from the natural, genetically programmed boost in production of male hormones, but environmental factors may play a role. The research suggests US boys may be beginning puberty up to a half year earlier than previous research indicated. This is based on the onset of pubic hair growth, assessment of which is less subjective than that of testicular growth. The difference could be greater if the genital findings are accurate...

Exposure To DDT, PCBs May Affect Body Size At Puberty

A study by the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences reveals that a mother's background exposure to DDE (a product of the insecticide DDT) and PCBs (a banned liquid electrical insulator) may increase the size of her children at puberty. The study followed up the teen children of women whose blood and milk levels of PCBs and DDE samples had been measured by NIEHS in a North Carolina study of expectant and new mothers between 1978 and 1982. Height of boys at puberty, and their weight adjusted for height, increased with higher prenatal exposure to DDE. Girls with the highest prenatal PCB exposures were heavier for their heights than other girls, but this result was statistically significant only in white girls...

Adolescent Sexual Behavior Linked To Self Esteem

Self-esteem plays an apparent role in the loss of virginity among adolescents, according to a study by researchers at the Indiana University School of Medicine. Self-esteem had opposite effects on young girls and young boys. Young girls with high self-esteem were less likely to engage in early sexual activity, while young boys with high self-esteem were more likely to report being sexually active. Results indicated that boys with high self-esteem were 2.4 times more likely to initiate intercourse than their peers with low self-esteem. High self-esteem had the opposite influence on girls, who reportedly were three times more likely to remain virgins than girls with low self-esteem...
