Hello [REDACTED],

Unfortunately, there was not enough information in your email for us to provide you with assistance in the most efficient manner. Please reply back to this email with the following information:

* A statement by you, made under penalty of perjury, that the above information in your Notice is accurate and that you are the copyright or intellectual property owner or authorized to act on the copyright or intellectual property owner's behalf.

Once we have this information, we will be able to further investigate.

Regards,

Copyright Agent, Yahoo! Inc.

Dear Yahoo! Copyright Department,

In response to an email received yesterday, 11/19/03 at 3:40 PM, I am faxing a copy of the below statements with the required physical signature.

These statements are to cover all faxes, emails, this, later and the previous letter already mailed which is dated November 11, 2003.

I, " ", the copyright and intellectual property owner, have a good faith belief that use of the material in the manner complained of is not authorized by the copyright and intellectual property owner, its agent or the law.

Under penalty of perjury, the above information in my Notice is accurate and that I am the copyright and intellectual property owner and/or I am authorized to act on the copyright and intellectual property owner's behalf.
