Re: Copyright Infringement Notification

Sent via Fax: [REDACTED]

This is a notice to inform you that web pages that have been indexed and "cached" on the Google search engine at <http://www.google.com> infringe on my copyright.

1. The copyrighted work was first published on the internet at the "DVD Direct 4 Less" web site (<http://www.dvddirect4less.com>) on this page:

http://www.dvddirect4less.com/renting_netflix DVDs2.html

2. Substantial portions of the content from the above referenced page have been reproduced without permission or attribution on the pages of a web site known as "Online DVD Rentals."

When using the search phrase "Netflix distribution centers" on the Google search engine, the search results returned include the following URL of an infringing page from the "Online DVD Rentals" web site:

<http://online-dvd-rentals.net/dvd-rental-online.html>

The infringing work is substantially similar to the original; major blocks of copy have simply been "cut and pasted" into the infringing page, with only a few words added or removed.

Pages available for reference online at the "Internet Archive" a.k.a. the "WayBack Machine" (<http://www.archive.org>), support our claim as the original author of the above referenced page.

6. I swear, under penalty of perjury, that the information in the notification is accurate and that I am the copyright owner or am authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed.

Many thanks for your prompt consideration of this claim, in accordance with Section 512 of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act.
