RE: Unauthorized Use of Twentieth Century Fox Film Properties

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter is being written to you on behalf of our client, Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation (hereinafter "Fox"). Fox is the exclusive owner of all rights to the script for the unreleased motion picture "Dread," including but not limited to all related copyrights, trademarks, and indicia of origin (hereinafter collectively referred to as "Fox's Copyrights and Trademarks"). No one is authorized to reproduce, transmit, copy, or otherwise utilize Fox's Copyrights and Trademarks without the express written permission of Fox.

It has come to our attention that a message in a Google Group, Message-ID: 37bd6703.0409150835.1ce6a113@posting.google.com displays, copies and distributes the "Dread" script without authorization from Fox. Attached hereto are representative pages from the aforementioned message.

Fox diligently enforces its rights in its Copyrights and Trademarks in all forms of media and rightfully takes its responsibility for the protection of its Copyrights and Trademarks very seriously. On behalf of Fox, we request your assistance in the immediate removal of the "Dread" script, and any other infringements of Fox's Copyrights and Trademarks, from this site and from any other sites for which you act as an Internet service provider. We swear, under penalty of perjury, that the information in the notification is accurate and that we are authorized to act on behalf of Fox. Please contact me at [REDACTED] kmwlaw.com and/or at my direct dial number, [REDACTED] to discuss this matter further.

Nothing in this letter shall be construed as a waiver or relinquishment of any right or remedy possessed by Fox or any other affected party, all of which are expressly reserved.

Very truly yours,

/s/
