Another store (www.aphome.com) has copied an item description of ours verbatim and has not responded to email requests to remove the infringement.

The item was copied from us, without question. I have more than a good faith belief that the disputed use is not authorized by the copyright or intellectual property holder owner (us), its agent or the law.

I swear that the above information is correct, under penalty of perjury, and that I am authorized to act on the copyright on the owner's behalf. The owner is Synergy Computing Business Group, Inc., I am the president and sole officer.

Please rectify the situation immediately by having them remove the item. Please notify me when it has been resolved. The infringing items follow:
