To Whom It May Concern:

The copyrighted work at issue is the text that appears on several article websites:

<http://articles.simplysearch4it.com/article/00013/4040.html>

http://www.articlealley.com/article_2459_2.html

http://www.webhosting-articles.com/article_2459_2.html

Search Query: "Network Security 101"

Infringing Web Page: <http://www.5starsupport.com/news.htm>

I have a good faith belief that use of the copyrighted materials described above on the allegedly infringing web pages is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law. The web site syndicated an article entitled "Network Security 101" which is the property of BizNicheMedia, but did not provide the link to our website (<http://www.networksecurityjournal.com>). BizNicheMedia only offers its articles to be syndicated if credit is given by a reference to our website. Furthermore, this site's copyright page states:

"All content included on this site, such as text, graphics, logos, buttons, icons, images, audio clips, and software, is the property of 5 Star Support or its content suppliers and protected by U.S. and International copyright laws. Any other use, including the reproduction, modification, distribution, transmission, republication, display, or performance, of the content on this site is strictly prohibited."

Since they did not produce the article, but merely syndicated it, with no reference to BizNicheMedia, this is a false statement. The company, 5 Star Support, can be contacted at  Stockton, California 95267. I swear, under penalty of perjury, that the information in the notification is accurate and that I am the copyright owner or am authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed.

Sincerely,

BizNicheMedia
